

DEI for Remote Teams: Build Collaboration and Culture Through Inclusive Communication

The Challenge and the Opportunity

The world has changed quickly and permanently. While adapting to the shift to remote and hybrid work, leaders are looking for an edge that will deliver growth, improve efficiency, and reduce risk. Building a remote team has many benefits, including:

- Recruiting the best talent, no matter where they are located
- Cultivating a diverse team that can make better, faster decisions, and
- Unlocking productivity while improving retention

Yet one key challenge remains:

How can your team communicate effectively across regions, cultures, and time zones to deliver the greatest business impact?

Introducing DEI Navigator for Remote Teams

Teaching your remote team to collaborate effectively means showing them how to work with people who have different backgrounds, experiences, perspectives, and skill sets. Establishing a common language and communication approach is key to business success. DEI Navigator by The Diversity Movement was designed to help teams develop an inclusive way of working to foster innovation and creativity. DEI Navigator includes access to:

Our expert team of business strategists and Certified Diversity Executives

Trustworthy and curated how-to guides, content, and tools that will help you tune your communication to resonate across multiple cultures and different dimensions of diversity

Our expanding microlearning library of 500+ MicroVideos, available at any time, on any device

Connection to a network of other remote organization so you can share lessons learned as you embed DEI into the way you work

The problems you're facing are solvable. We are here to help you start and continue your DEI journey no matter where you are. Tap into a network of experts and peers today with a monthly membership to DEI Navigator.

Visit thediversitymovement.com/dei-navigator to get started